Campaign For Chest Funds Nearing Goal

Only $6,494 Left
To Be Raised For Successful Drive

Three more teams exceeded their individual quotas yesterday in the Community Chest campaign to push the total subscribed to date to $54,801.54 which is 90 per cent of the $61,295 over-all goal.

Only $6,494 stands between the Chest workers and a successful 1959 campaign.

Captains of all the solicitation teams met yesterday at the Chamber of Commerce offices to review the campaign and map plans for a windup of the drive.

Highly encouraged because 90 per cent of the goal has been obtained, General Chairman Robert Oswald appealed to all solicitors to complete their canvassing within the next few days.

The downtown business team led by Aubrey Hayes and Urban Lepping reported $3,237 yesterday to exceed their quota by three per cent.

The suburban team captained by
Mrs. Ralph Phillips and Galea
Greenstein turned in $621 for 101 per cent and the professional team led by Earl Miller and T. E. Miller reported 103 per cent with $4,431 collected.

Previously, the schools team led by Paul E. Smith, John Callahan and Mrs. Mary Doyle, scored 134 per cent with $1,640. The executive team, which was led by R.
S. McCulloch Sr., and Walter Deming, had turned in $28,595 for 108
per cent.

Here's the standings of all the Chest teams today:

Executive, $28,595 (108 per cent);
Team One, small businesses, $1,- 046 (85 per cent); Team Two, clubs and organizations, $1,345 (73 per cent); Team Three, downtown business, $3,237 (106 per cent); Team Four, schools, $1,640 (134 per cent).

Team Five, industrial employees, $9,083 (57 per cent); Team Six, professional, $4,431 (103 per cent); Team Seven, automotive, $649 (53 per cent).

Team Eight, chain stores, $2,- 324 (76 per cent); Team Nine, residential, $1,822 (75 per cent) and Team Ten, suburban, $621 (101 per cent).

Chairman Oswald urged improvement in the reports from the team soliciting the automotive businesses and the team canvassing the industrial employees. "Improved reports by both could put us over the top," he said.

Bandits Rob Six Persons In Warren Home

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Authorities today were seeking two gunmen who invaded a Trumbull County home, tied up six persons and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

The masked pair were waiting Thursday night in the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Frank Gandishar in Champion, four miles northwest of here, when the couple's son, Ronald, 20, returned home with the day's receipts from the B & J Market, which the Gandishars operate north of here.

When Ronald entered the house, the robbers—one armed with a shotgun, and the other with a pistol—were holding at gunpoint his parents, two other children and his girl friend. The gunmen tied up Ronald and the others with plastic cord they had brought, took the store receipts and escaped in Ronald's car.

One of the victims wiggled free of the bonds and freed the others.

Struthers Councilman Found Dead In Garage

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—R.
Blair Shilling, a councilman in suburban Struthers, was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning in his garage Thursday. The coroner, Dr. David A. Belinky, ruled suicide.

Shilling, 32, was completing his second term and was a Democratic candidate for re-election. His wife died last year.

Castro Raises Threat to Bases

Attack Strongest
Yet Against U.S.

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro

announced early today that he will raise an armed militia of laborers and peasants if bombings by his opponents continue.

The black-bearded Prime Minister threatened his opposition with a militia in a five-hour television speech which included the strongest attack he has ever delivered against the United States.

He also called for a demonstration on Monday by a million citizens to protest aerial raids he charged were carried out by "counter-revolutionary planes based in the United States. Presumably Havana again will be thronged by peasants from the countryside, brought in to cheer the leader of the revolution that overthrew Fulgencio Batista.

Castro appeared in his favorite electronic forum after two mystery planes showered Havana on Wednesday with leaflets attacking his regime: anti-Castro gangs droving through the capital in cars throwing small bombs and grenades, and the revolutionary army's commander in Camaguey Province resigned along with 30 of his officers in protest against Communist influence in Castro's movement.

A few hours before the telecast,
the Prime Minister's bodyguard seized a drunken, knife-carrying Cuban factory worker at a street-corner demonstration around Cas-

Murky Water at Greenford School Sends Pupils Home

Five hundred ninety pupils in the Greenford School were sent home Thursday just before the lunch period when a discoloration was detected in the school's water supply.

Cause for the "coffee-colored" water drawn from the 200-foot well has not yet been determined.
Workers inspected the pumps this morning in an effort to locate the source of trouble, Supt. Woodrow Bailey said.

The well has been in use only about seven or eight years since the original well on the school property was abandoned.

Supt. Bailey said he would announce in The News when the condition is corrected so that parents may be advised concerning the reopening of school.

President Says His Bronchitis Chronic

Ike Doesn't Mind Cold, Raw Weather

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — For a man who says he has chronic bronchitis, President Eisenhower doesn't seem to mind getting out in raw, chilly weather.

It was that kind of weather
Thursday afternoon when Eisenhower played the Augusta National Golf course.

He did so a few hours after telling a news conference here he developed bronchitis almost three years ago "and it seems to have become chronic."

White House Press Secretary
James C. Hagerty said, however, that he didn't think Eisenhower had run any risk to his health.

Early last month the President caught a cold which in time made him miserable. On Sept. 30 he went to Palm Springs, Calif., on the recommendation of his doctor, and stayed in that dry climate until Oct. 8.

At his news conference Thursday, Eisenhower—who since 1955 has suffered a heart attack, ille-itis and a minor stroke—was questioned about his cold, and replied:

"Well, actually, almost three years ago I contracted a bronchitis which finally seems to have developed and become chronic.
And so every slight cold has a sort of multiplied effect on me, and consequently I seek the warm weather and sun."

Then he startled reporters by saying that when he went to Palm Springs he not only had an acute cold but a flu attack on top of it.

Flu had never been mentioned by the White House.

"I called it flu," Eisenhower chuckled. "Whether the doctor did or not, I don't think I ever asked him."

"Any time I feel as badly as I did that time, I call it flu, that's all."

County Will Hire
Clerks for Courts

The Columbiana County commissioners Thursday authorized Carl Stacey, clerk of courts, to hire three deputy clerks to serve in the three county courts from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Stacey was also instructed to employ three men to accept bonds and make out commitment papers at a centrally located point in the county from 4 p.m. to 8 a.m.

Most of the personnel have been selected and will be announced before they begin their duties around Nov. 6, Stacey said.

After that date, State Highway Patrol cases will not be heard in mayors' offices, thrusting an additional work load on the county courts. The bond station will permit out-of-state drivers to post bonds if they do not wish to return to the county to face trial.

Gov. DiSalle Pays KSU Surprise Visit

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he is making a tour of state schools to determine "if we are keeping pace with the growth in education."

Paying a surprise visit to Kent State University Thursday, the governor said the physical aspects of the university are adequate for the time being, "but expansion will have to come."

"One of the things most frequently proposed for Kent is the addition of an engineering department," the governor said.
"Such an addition might be desirable."

Lawyers Bank Arguments In Steel Walkout

Decision of Three Judges Is Awaited;
Strike In 101st Day

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The steel strike, already costing billions of dollars, moved into its 101st day today as three federal judges pondered the legality of the government's back-to-work injunction.

The legal truce, prompted by arguments Thursday on the injunction appeal, will extend into early next week.

The union contended the injunction, granted Wednesday by a U.S.
District Court judge in Pittsburgh, is unconstitutional and asked that it be canceled. The chief argument: It would halt the strike for 80 days but wouldn't settle it.

The government, however, said Thursday the continuing long walkout endangered the health and safety of the nation, and that a Taft-Hartley injunction was necessary to prevent wrecking of America's economy.

The judges—Chief Judge John Biggs Jr., Herbert F. Goodrich and William Hastie—delayed enforcement of the injunction until they rule on its legality "early next week"—probably Monday or Tuesday.

But the court, mindful of the seriousness of the situation, directed that the union and steel industry "engage in free collective bargaining in good faith" and
"make every effort to adjust and settle their differences."

Leaders of the giant Steelworkers Union promptly accepted the court mandate. They assembled the 171-member wage policy committee in Pittsburgh today to discuss the next step in the nationwide controversy that has closed 310 steel plants, 108 ore mines and 11 transport facilities in 32 states.

Union President David J. Mc-Donald, who sat through Thursday's four-hour court session, said he would comply with the court order. So did spokesmen for management. But no new negotiating session has yet been arranged.

The Eisenhower administration had no immediate plans for new settlement attempts. A Department of Labor spokesman said
"there's nothing we can do" until the circuit court rules.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said it will step in only if the injunction is upheld.
The strike's effects have been devastating. Losses in wages, business and taxes have rocketed past five billion dollars.

Steel Strike Alternatives

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What happens next is the question about the involved steel strike litigation.

Here are the alternatives based on next week's decision in the case by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals:

If the court vacates the strike-ending injunction issued Wednesday by Judge Herbert P. Sorg of U. S. District Court, the union will be free to keep its members on strike. The government undoubtedly will appeal to the U.S.
Supreme Court.

Should the court uphold the Sorg order it could permit a stay of execution pending an almost certain United Steelworkers Union appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court. If a stay is not included in such an order, the union could immediately petition the Supreme Court for such an order.

One thing appears certain, the Circuit Court order will not settle the issue. The matter obviously is going to the Supreme Court.
The strike likely will continue at least into the latter part of next week unless there is a negotiated settlement in the interim.

Action Follows Row With Stanton

'Person to Person' Producers Leave CBS

NEW YORK (AP)—The producers of the "Person to Person" television show are severing connection with the Columbia Broadcasting System in a row with CBS
President Frank Stanton.

Saying Stanton had "slurred" their program, producers John A.
Aaron and Jesse Zousmer Thursday announced jointly:

"Our lawyers have reached an amicable agreement with the lawyers for CBS to release us from our 52-week contract as soon as possible."

Last week Stanton, in the wake of the congressional probe of rigged TV quiz programs, called for honesty and realism in all CBS TV shows. At the same time he banned all TV quiz shows on his network.

He also tossed out canned laughter and applause and urged all programs — including "Person to Person" — to "play it straight" with the public. If a program was rehearsed, Stanton said, the viewing audience should be told.

"Person to Person" consists of an interviewer talking with prominent personalities in their room.

The Goodyear ZPG-3W blimps are the largest nonrigids ever built. The blimps will be used for Airborne Early Warning (AEW) duty.

Constitutionality Is Questioned

Litigation Begins on Ohio Fair Trade Law

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio's new fair trade law, enacted over Gov.
Michael V. DiSalle's veto, is headed for more controversy.

The law, which went into effect
Thursday, permits manufacturers to set minimum retail prices on their products.

A previous fair trade law was thrown out as unconstitutional by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Even before the new law became effective, five lawsuits challenging its constitutionality had been filed in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court. Eight new lawsuits were started Thursday.

The litigation involves seven Ohio drug distributors in Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Youngstown, Cincinnati and Norwood. Defendants are three national drug manufacturers — Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., Eli Lilly Co.
of Indianapolis, and E. R. Squibb & Sons, Cleveland.

Leonard Lane, attorney for the retail firms, said the manufacturers notified the distributors that vitamins and certain other of their products must be sold at fair trade prices.

Lane said the retail companies will maintain their present prices until the law has been tested.
Three big Cleveland drugstore chains, Gray Drug Stores, Inc., the Standard Drug Co., and the Marshall Drug Co., said they also would maintain present price levels pending court action.

Upjohn was the subject of five suits filed before the law went into effect. An attempt to get an early hearing of the cases failed.

Two new actions were started against Upjohn Thursday. Lilly was the subject of five suits.
Squibb was named in one.

Cost of Living Hits New High In September

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs, as measured by the government, climbed three tenths of one per cent last month to another record high.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today that its index rose to 125.2 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

Every major item in the budget of the average city family went up except transportation.

The rising costs mean that almost 14 cents has been whittled from the buying power of the consumer's dollar in the last six months.

But Hershey S. Riley, price chief of the BLS, rejected a reporter's suggestion that "new creeping inflation" may have set in.

Much of the increase last month was normal for the season, Riley said.

As a result of the rise, about 1,236,000 workers whose pay checks are geared to fluctuations in the price index will receive pay increases of 1 to 3 cents hourly.

These include 850,000 railroad, pullman company and railway express employees whose pay is ad-

Big 3 Meetings Being Eyed for Early December

Top Level Confab
Would Be Set for Early Next Spring

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are talking about a new summit conference timetable now that French President Charles de Gaulle has slowed the rush to negotiate with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

At the moment the outlook, as State Department authorities see it, is this:

1. A Western summit meeting in early December just before the scheduled session of NATO foreign ministers opening Dec. 15.
This would bring together President Eisenhower, De Gaulle, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

2. An East-West summit conference at Geneva probably in March although present speculation also includes February and April as possible meeting months.

The Geneva session would bring together Khrushchev, Eisenhower, Macmillan and De Gaulle.

Between these two heads of government meetings there would be time for detailed planning of Germany, disarmament questions and other issues which the East-West negotiations may take up.

In the meantime, some further development of East-West understanding may result from the projected visit to France of Khrushchev for talks with De Gaulle.
These talks presumably will be similar in nature to his Camp
David discussions with President Eisenhower last month.

Eisenhower told a news conference at Augusta, Ga., Thursday that he favored an East-West summit meeting by the end of this year but made clear he had not insisted on it. At one point, it is understood, Dec. 7 was suggested to Macmillan and De Gaulle as a target date.

Macmillan wanted the session as soon as possible. But De Gaulle insisted in correspondence with the President and Prime Minister that there must be very careful preparations of Western policies so that the three would deal with Khrushchev from common positions. The French government said it favored an East-West meeting next spring.

There is considerable speculation here that De Gaulle may also have had other considerations in mind. He may have wanted to arrange the Khrushchev visit to France prior to formal East-West negotiations. He may also have wanted more time in which to increase French prestige by exploding a nuclear weapons device in the Sahara Desert.

Trucker Found Guilty In Deaths of Two

LISBON — Jack W. Barton, 21, of Fremont, was found guilty on Thursday afternoon by a Common Pleas Court jury in the traffic manslaughter deaths of Frank Cameron, 64, and his son, William Cameron, 42, both of Lisbon RD
3.

The accident happened May 16 on Rt. 7 near Williamsport. The jury deliberated one hour before reaching a verdict.

Judge Joel H. Sharp deferred sentencing pending an application for a new trial.

The prosecution contended the Camerons were killed when a truck driven by the defendant went left of center and struck their car.
Barton said his brakes failed, causing the truck to veer into the other lane.

State Department Cites Patriots

Hungarian Uprising
Was Three Years Ago

WASHINGTON (AP) — On this third anniversary of the tragic Hungarian revolution, the U.S. government says it "shall live in history as the symbol of a people's sacrifice in the cause of independence and freedom."

The State Department declaration said Americans "today remember and honor the Hungarian patriots who died in this struggle and those who, today, must live under a system which has been imposed upon them."

Unusually outspoken, the statement said the Hungarian people rebelled "in a spontaneous and valiant effort to achieve their long standing aspirations for a government which would be free of foreign domination."

"This effort failed in the face of ruthless Soviet military intervention."

In a report also timed to coincide with the third anniversary of the 1956 uprising, the House Un-American Activities committee said Hungarians are losing all hope of throwing off the Soviet yoke of oppression.

The report was based on interviews by committee staffers with Joseph Kovago, former mayor of Budapest, and Gen. Bela Kiraly, former commander of the Hungarian Freedom Fighters.

Both men, now in exile in this country, said you can't do business with Nikita Khrushchev. The committee's interviews were conducted Sept. 10, shortly before the Soviet Premier visited the United States.

Angered Parents
Leave 5 Children
At Welfare Office

CLEVELAND (AP) — Five young Cleveland children were abandoned Thursday in the County Welfare Office by their parents, who were angered because they had not received their relief check.

Police found the mother, Mrs. Leroy Henderson, after a 4½-hour search, but not the father.

Mrs. Henderson, taken to city jail, said the children were abandoned because there was no baby food in the house.

The children, ranging from 6-week-old twins to a 4-year-old boy, were taken to the County Receiving Home.

Welfare officials said the Hendersons came to the welfare office to complain that they had received no aid and were told that no checks could be expected until the father, employed sporadically since 1951, showed a better attendance record in the working training program.

In the program, relief applicants prove good faith and are retrained by working for pay 17 days of every month on jobs assigned to them by welfare officials.

Dangerous Method
For Catching Fish

CYNTHIANA, Ky. (AP) — Shelton West and two fishing companions caught a mess of fish in the South Licking River but they aren't likely to use the same method again.

They were standing in the water when a high-voltage line snapped and dangled into the water. Their rubber boots protected them, but hundreds of fish were electrocuted.

The men waded ashore and later scooped up the fish.

Vote Schedule
On Contract In Meat Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 18,000 striking meat packing employees will vote this weekend whether to ratify a tentative contract agreement which would end their seven-week walkout against Swift & Co.

Ratification by a majority of the locals in 34 cities would give the workers a contract providing for wage increases from 8½ to 15 cents an hour over a two-year period plus improved fringe benefits.

Announcement of the tentative agreement came Thursday night from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service, whose conciliators sat in on negotiating sessions, and from officers of the two striking unions.

The unions are the United Packinghouse Workers of America, which represents 13,000 workers, and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, representing 5,000 workers.

For most Swift workers the wage increases would be the same as those the unions negotiated in contracts with other major meat packers.

About 16,020 Swift workers would receive an immediate increase of 8½ cents an hour and 6½ cents an hour on Sept. 1, 1960. Pre-contract pay in the industry averaged $2.56 an hour.

The remainder of the employees, working at seven southern plants, would receive a total of 8½ cents an hour over the two year period.

Probe of Highway Program Foreseen In Next Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Watch the next session of Congress for a lively investigation of the multi-billion-dollar roads program. Ohio may figure in this one.

LISBON — Robert L. Damm, field representative of the Ohio State Historical Society, and Dr. J. H. Rodabaugh, state historian, will address an open meeting of the Lisbon Historical Society Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the High School.

Dr. Rodabaugh will speak on the history of Ohio and about the many local historical societies in the state and their functions in assembling and maintaining the past and present history of the state.

ASK FUND TRANSFER

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp has received a request from the Columbiana County Commissioners to transfer $922.73 from the children's home fund to the general fund so the commissioners can pay bills incurred in the remodeling of the Kyes Receiving Home in East Palestine. The home was given to the county to be used as a receiving home by the Kyes heirs.

The inquiry will be conducted by a special committee headed by Rep. John A. Blatnik (D-Minn). He promises to expose fraud and skulduggery if he finds it.

"But I don't intend to make a whipping boy out of federal and state highway agencies," says Blatnik.

Rep. Burr Harrison (D-Va) expects sensations. He says: "It (the inquiry) may make Teapot Dome look like a game of marbles."

Ohio could get into it in one way or another because it has a member on the committee, Rep. Gordon H. Scherer, a Cincinnati Republican.

Scherer already appears extremely unimpressed with the scandals being forecast. As a conservative Ohio Republican, he thinks a principal motivation for the investigation is politics.

Without naming them, Scherer said in a Boston speech the other day that some members of this committee "are not known for their lack of partisanship."

"They also have those qualifications and abilities which some people say are necessary for good hatchet men," he said, adding, ironically, he is sure they won't use those abilities to that end.

Beyond that, Scherer noted that next year will be an election year and that so far he has been unable to get even one Republican on the investigation staff.

A reporter called the House Public Works Committee about that, and was told that Blatnik is seriously considering Scherer's request.

As it happens, the Republicans also are conducting an investigation of the road program at the White House level.

The street here is on trying to cut costs. The top consultant to this Eisenhower group is Charles M. Noble, the former Ohio highway director who believed strongly that trimming roads standards was false economy.

Whether the Blatnik investigation is merely, as Scherer claims, a partisan attack on the GOP-run Bureau of Roads or a real search for fraud will be known soon.

The inquiry certainly will have a lot of political overtones. Already Scherer is saying that he is trying to decide "whether to continue to serve as a member of the subcommittee."

Ohio Request For Special Tags Rejected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A request for special metal to make reflective license tags in Ohio was turned down Thursday by the State Controlling Board.

The Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction had asked for $45,000 worth of the reflective metal to produce some 200,000 tags for a safety study.

Ohio Highway Safety Director J. Grant Keys said the 1960 plates would have been distributed around Ohio to determine their effectiveness in highway safety.

Keys feels that the tags would reduce accidents and assist in law enforcement. If such a study proved successful, he said, he would then go to the Legislature with a proposal to make all Ohio license plates of the metal.

Clinton V. Oster, deputy finance director, told Keys the disapproval action was "on recommendation of the administration."

Keys said he wasn't going to give up. He insisted the metal would be more effective than paint with reflective particles.

The purchase would have been on a non-competitive basis. A St. Paul, Minn., firm is the only known source.

The board postponed action Thursday for at least two weeks on conditional approval of state aid of $7,843,956 for additional school buildings and classrooms in 13 school districts. The grants have been approved by the Board of Education.

Ohio's Fall Scenery Is At Its Best

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Brilliant fall scenery around the state is at its peak.

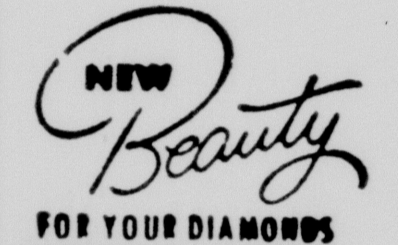

Park managers report this week end will be the most colorful of the year in Ohio's rural areas and hill-country forests, the Division of Parks says.

Hueston Woods State Park in the southwest is bursting with yellow and red color. Punderson Lake Park, Geauga County, shows much red, orange and yellow with some rich purples.

Observers at Hocking County Park say red, yellow and brown is plentiful. Burr Oak State Park, Athens and Morgan counties, boasts blazing reds and rusts amid strong greens.

Pike State Park, Pike County, reports red, yellow, brown and green are showing well. Giant Shawnee State Forest, Scioto and Adams counties, also sports colorful maple trees.

Can Collective Bargaining Work?

All the evidence of the steel strike is negative on the issue of whether collective bargaining can be made to work.

There was a breakdown of bargaining in the steel negotiations. The union and the companies failed the test that President Eisenhower said they were undergoing.

When the inquiry board finally was called in to see what it could do about the deadlock, its chairman, George W. Taylor, said it learned to its astonishment that the issues in the steel industry's longest strike hadn't even been defined, though negotiators had been meeting since May.

When the strike began in July, the omen for agreement was dark. That was when the White House warned collective bargaining was undergoing a test.

The looming question in October is not alone how to keep the country from being paralyzed by the prolonged stoppage in steel but also how to keep the country from being crippled indefinitely by breakdowns in collective bargaining in other industries.

DOCKWORKERS on the East Coast have had to be ordered back to their jobs to relieve port tieups that had created an emergency. There have been deadlocks in steel and copper. When auto contracts expire next year, the country will be lucky to escape without another crippling blow.

Everybody wants to believe collective bargaining can work, but optimists are short of proof.

For once, no one is in a position to claim he has a solution. The breakdown has been caused by more than a flaw in collective bargaining.

A major fault has been revealed. Collective bargaining can work successfully only if both parties have the same purpose in mind — to work out mutually advantageous agreements that will enable them to work together.

Both parties, to do this, must think of bargaining as a negotiation between partners in an enterprise that enables them to work and prosper.

If they think of themselves, instead, as foes in a skirmish of class warfare, what started out to be collective bargaining turns into a war of attrition, in which one side must be worn down before there can be a truce.

Bargaining turns into a test of power and stubborn determination, when it should be a quest for agreement.

IT WILL BE a sad day for free enterprise if the United States must throw the towel in its fight to preserve self-determination in the industrial era.

It will be a hard blow to confidence in the principle of free choice in decisions on the industrial contract if the people's only recourse is to put a limit on free choice in bargaining.

The alternative, however, is to say that the United States is at the mercy of every deadlock that may occur in bargaining; that it lacks the right or the power to help itself.

The problem will come before Congress when it reconvenes next January. Whether it will take the form of an acute problem to be solved in haste or a chronic problem to be discussed at length and then set aside for further consideration at some later date will depend on the outcome in steel this October.

IF THE ONLY way the nation can get off the floor is to fight its way up with a Taft-Hartley injunction to make the steel industry produce for 30 days, the problem will be acute next January when the injunction has run out and the steel industry goes back on strike — if that is what it really intends to do in the absence of a settlement this October.

People Are Here to Stay

A resolution favoring a quieter jet engine was adopted last week by the Airport Operators Council, representing many of the country's largest cities. If it means that operators are sensitive to public rights — and they have to be in view of complaints about noise — the public can feel more hopeful about the future.

The nuisance of unbearably unpleasant airplane noise is not the inevitable price of aerial progress. Granted that military planes must remain a rule unto themselves and not be restricted, even the growing frequency of sonic booming over cities may not have to be accepted as a way of life in the years to come.

Aviation is here to stay and grow and get used to. But human beings were here to stay and get used to before the Wright brothers ever got their contraption off the ground. Operators of airports cannot shrug off complaints about noise nuisance, nor can politicians. There are more groundlings than birdmen, more people made unhappy by loud noise than people who think loud noise, itself, is evidence of progress.

Quieter jet engines are possible. Stricter rules about airplane noise are on the way. The price of progress in the air age is not inevitably the shriek of a jet engine the boom of supersonic flight over populated places, or the teeth-rattling roar of heavily loaded planes struggling for altitude over cities whose inhabitants are trying to stay asleep.

Important Survey

A six-year study of 650 families in Columbiana County—150 of them in Salem—is expected to shed additional light on the highly important cancer research program.

The survey will get under way soon, being conducted by a group of volunteer workers led by Mrs. Gertrude Reese of near East Liverpool and Louis Moushey of Salem, who is vice president of the Columbiana County Chapter of the American Cancer Society. UCT members will assist locally.

Families will be called upon to fill out confidential questionnaires and this will be repeated annually during the six-year study period. The volunteers deserve our cooperation as they help in the never-ending battle to find clues which may someday isolate the dread disease.

The striking fact was that it was done with taste. Mr. Truman lost nothing in dignity and yet managed to make the show fine entertainment.

Few presidents in history could have done the trick but Harry has the homespun neighborly, James Whitcomb Riley personality that made it all seem proper. The act made such a hit that there may be a Truman-Benny White House ticket, with Rochester as secretary of state.

NEW YORK WINDOW WASHERS have won a raise to around $114 a week. You've gotta admit they went to great "panes" to get it.

Five airplane carriers which stood the fury of Jap attacks in the Pacific have been sold to Japan as junk. (What price valor, anguish and patriotism?) The flattops will be converted into Japanese products to help the economy but we think it makes Uncle Sam look cold-hearted and silly. How would you like to have your kid playing with Japanese toys made from heroic flattops? And how would you react if you knew a Japanese cocktail tray had the blood of American sailors on it?

Russians Can Bake Bread

By Westbrook Pegler

I found so much to find fault with in Moscow recently that I forgot to report that the Russians in Moscow recently that I have eaten in all these years.

I freely state this on the basis of experience in our Ukraine hotel, the Palace hotel and the Restaurant Praha, meaning Prague. Otherwise, I go back to my original theme that whoever thought the Moscow menu was good, as Ralph McGill, of the Roosevelt Cult, reported in milky essays out of the workers' paradise, must live a very submarginal life back home. Either that or prolonged overindulgence in ideology demoralizes the palate.

I found excellent white bread in all the Scandinavian cities which I visited, but none quite as virtuous as the Russian.

EXPOUNDING THIS, I find it appropriate to remark that in my standard, the bread we sell in our grocery places and serve in most restaurants is a profanation of the almost holy name of bread which has a reputation incomparably superior to that of any other vileness on all the menus of all the world.

"Give us this day our daily bread," man does not live by bread alone," Ben Franklin's long loaf under his arm, "Cast thy bread upon the water," or help yourself to the Bartlett's while this breadwinner wins some.

Once, in a hellishly clever mood, when I was composing melodious thoughts for Roy Howard, I wrote a little beauty about the revolting character of American store bread. That seemed harmless because, after all, who is going to rear back and defend bad bread? Who? Well, just the big corporations which manufacture bad bread that is who. And the next day, the national advertising manager poked his head in the door and said, "Look at page somewhat of today's World-Telegram."

Which being done, I discovered that by a satanic coincidence, I had chosen for my fearless denunciation of bad bread the very same day that we were running a great big, spread-eagle feature on store bread, with voluptuous ads, from the standpoint of the business office, festooned around pure reading matter of a laudatory character.

BUT, A FEW DAYS LATER I began to get gifts of bread from all over. Arnold's brick oven people, who were just starting, and Pepperidge Farms sent me a carton of a dozen loaves each. Individual nuts, mostly men, sent me two or six of their best efforts. Did you ever know that many men make bread at home for fun? Restaurants in Kansas City, Sapulpa and Bangor, which made their own, sent bread. I was slender and the bread-under-butter was my staff of life. And though my loved ones warned me that Roosevelt's brain trust and the A.F. of L. might have doped some of these loaves with ground glass and insect powder, I scoffed away their alarms and had me a time for weeks.

One day a public relations man for the bad bread interests with a mournfully patient manner took me to lunch and patiently explained that the American people by overwhelming preference insisted on bad bread. Good bread was bad from the mercantile standpoint. The American public insisted on flour refined almost to death and reinvigorated with vitamins. They wanted bread which would sough like a gentle wind when you pressed the ends of a loaf until they almost met in the middle. Though tradition said "Break bread" for dining, we more properly ought to say "Come and stretch bread with us." He proved that our best people abhorred the bread which I admired and that children overwhelmingly insisted on bad bread. They slipped the good bread under the table to the pup which would lick the gravy off, yawn and remember unfinished business outside, so please open the door.

Poor Roy Howard! I got that little guy into more jams.

NEVERTHELESS, although our vast multitude of bad bread addicts might be alienated, I say the Russians serve in Moscow the best white bread I have encountered in years except those 50-cent loaves for the supercilious trade, such as me, in the supermarkets.

Bread and caviar were all I loved on in Moscow.

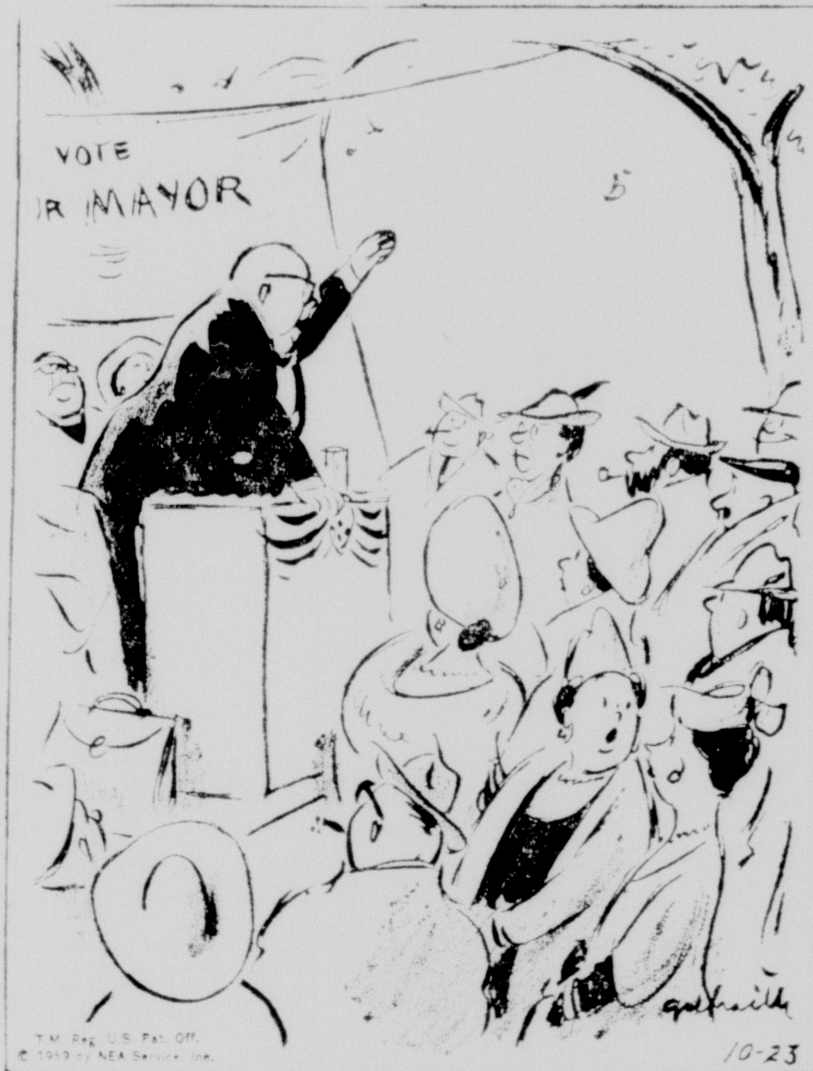

I wondered how long I would last on caviar three times a day, and thought of horror stories in the old Police Gazette about gourmands in the old Madison Square Garden who tried to eat a square a day for 30 days for a side bet of $10,000 and finked out on the 27th day.

But I never got tired of caviar breakfast, lunch and dinner, and that wonderful good white Russian bread.

They can't lay brick or fix a clogged sink, but they can make white bread.

Secret Diplomacy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ike, Khrushchev Exchange Many Letters

Secret diplomacy seems to be having its troubles. President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Khrushchev have been exchanging letters since the latter's visit here and, while Berlin was their primary concern they have also discussed Red China's recent behavior in Tibet and India as well as its policy of force against the Nationalists in Formosa but the exact status of such things.

Is Mr. Khrushchev having trouble with his ally? Is the "peaceful coexistence" medicine to be applied or is tension in Asia to be increased?

Amidst all the speculation, Mr. Khrushchev has just announced that he supports the claim of the Red China government to Nationalist Formosa.

Does this mean he intends to keep on supplying munitions to the Chinese Communists for their war on Quemoy and Matsu and their eventual attacks on Formosa?

The Soviet Premier must know that the U.S. Congress, by joint resolution, authorized the use of American armed forces to defend Formosa and that, if the islands of Quemoy and Matsu are seized and used as a base for attacks on Formosa, the United States is duty bound to intervene by force.

To be discussing all this now seems strange, since only last month Mr. Khrushchev piously proclaimed that he and President Eisenhower had agreed that military force must be "renounced" as a means of settling international disputes.

HE DID IMPLY later that he didn't mean to bar a war of "liberation," which doubtless includes Formosa but excludes a similar right for the people of Hungary.

Perhaps the speech made this week in New York by Robert Murphy, undersecretary of state for political affairs, throws some light on the problem. He said:

"In the past we have had reason to link Moscow and Peking in aggressive moves in Korea and Quemoy and Matsu. No doubt Ho Chi Minh (leader of North Vietnam Communist forces) consulted the Moscow leadership as well as Peking before the Viet Minh launched the guerrilla attacks in northern Laos.

"Are the Russians entirely comfortable with these Chinese adventures in aggressive warfare if they believe one of them might be the spark of a much larger conflagration?"

"There is no doubt that publicly Mr. Khrushchev feels obliged to support Red China, no matter how outrageous its conduct might be in Tibet. I would question that privately he would be happy over the world effect of this adventure in brutality or its impact on Indian public opinion.

"It is not always certain that Russian aspirations coincide with Chinese ambitions and methods. 'Some day this might become a most uneasy partnership. However, this day seems far in the future and in the present in which we must operate there is little doubt but that both Moscow and Peking regard the continuation of their close alliance as being of overriding importance.

"Peking in particular would be hard pressed to do without the assistance it receives from the Soviet Union.

"In turn this is a drain on the Soviet economy which delays the day when the Soviet people may achieve a better standard of living."

ODDLY ENOUGH Prime Minister Nehru of India, speaking this week at a news conference in Calcutta, charged that Communist China does not share Premier Khrushchev's desire for a thaw in the "cold war." He said:

"I have no doubt that Khrushchev wants peace. The same eagerness for peace is not present in China."

Mr. Nehru said also that Red China is anxious for more territory and that he thinks the attack on Indian territory by the Chinese Communists was launched to counteract the Soviet Premier's peace offensive.

It is apparent that Mr. Khrushchev has his hands full regulating the conduct of a vast bureaucracy in Moscow and is not so adept at simultaneously controlling the Red China regime.

There has been considerable puzzlement throughout the world over the acts of aggression committed by the Red Chinese at the very time that the Soviet Premier has been trying to "ease tensions" in the "cold war."

Some observers theorize that Peking is pulling away from Moscow but this doesn't seem plausible because of the great need that Red China has for the alliance with the Soviet Union.

A logical explanation is that two big Communist empires have had trouble co-ordinating their moves and desires at a time when the Soviet Premier is engaged in a complex negotiation with Britain, France and the United States with respect to Berlin and the problems of Europe.

MR. KHRUSHCHEV naturally doesn't want to see a flare up in the Far East at a time when he is impatient to go to a "summit" conference.

President De Gaulle of France is stalling on the idea of such a meeting now, while President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan would like to go ahead with it immediately.

Certainly the Soviet Premier is anxious to have the Red Chinese behave themselves for the time being at least. Then, if the "summit" meeting itself comes to naught, he has some cards to play by fomenting another crisis in the Far East as well as in Southeast Asia.

Steel Strike Costs Millions

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel strike's harm to the economy can only be estimated. But it has run into the millions. And before all its effects are over, it may run into the billions.

Because things won't be the same again for some time, even if workers are back at the steel mills for 80 days under a federal court injunction. There's a long time lead between orders and delivery of steel. An even longer one intervenes before any effects show up in consumer prices.

It's easy to figure how much the workers would have been paid if they had been working instead of striking—that is, assuming that they would have been working at the same pace as before the strike.

It's easy to figure how much tonnage the steel companies didn't produce and sell—that is, assuming their orders would have held up at the old prestrike rate. And the loss in pay to railroad workers and coal miners laid off, and in earnings of their bosses, can be figured on the same basis—the assumption that the roads would have been carrying as much coal and ore and scrap and as much finished steel products since July 15 as they were before the strike started.

But what the users of steel in their own plants have lost in lower production, and their workers in layoffs or slowdowns, is harder to come by.

How much they stand to lose after the mills start up again, because consumers' inventories will be exhausted before steel shipments can replenish them, is even harder to estimate. Many think the loss will be quite high.

Many factories had to buy premium-priced steel to keep going, and many may have to buy still more after the mills reopen.

Merchants in the areas hardest hit by the strike and the layoffs can estimate how much trade, other than for necessities, they have lost. Many are wondering how much lower their Christmas trade may be, how much cheaper the presents will be, if any are sold.

The U. S. Treasury also is keeping a nervous eye on tax collections, since both corporate and individual incomes will be down wherever the strike hit hard. With the new federal budget in precarious balance at best, the lone strike could be the Achilles' heel of the budget makers.

What the public stands to lose if a final settlement means higher prices for the basic commodity, only time can tell.

The long and bitter dispute could affect future management-labor relations in many lines. The public has come to look on the struggle over management's demand for a return to more control over its mill operations as a crucial one in labor relations. Labor, in and out of the steel industry, takes that view.

That is why so many people have been cool to the idea of calling an 80-day cooling off period. They question whether the negotiations that would be going on during that period would lead to any meeting of the minds. They doubt if it would inspire either side to budge and that would leave the nation with a continuation of the strike on its hands.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

The steel union had it all set to win the seven billion dollar strike early Monday morning. At that time Edgar Kaiser, president of the vast steel-dam building - aluminum - construction combine known as Kaiser Industries, was to walk into strike leader Dave McDonald's suite in Washington's Hotel Carlton and sign up. This would have smashed the industry front.

At least five other companies would have followed. There would have been no emergency. It's history that Kaiser didn't sign. But it has not been reported why he didn't meet McDonald and union counsel, Art Goldberg.

Edgar Kaiser has disclosed to intimates that he was told that his huge Hawaii-to-Ghana construction corporation known as Kaiser Engineering would lose 200 million dollars worth of building contracts if he bolted the industry front.

These contracts are orders from the steel firms and affiliated industries. Kaiser Engineering, a subsidiary of Kaiser Industries, builds steel mills and supplies steel making equipment such as the big furnaces.

KAISER INDUSTRIES is still guided by the elderly Henry Kaiser of World War II fame who now lives in Hawaii. Mr. Kaiser has long been pro-labor. During the war he would go into AFL union headquarters to sign contracts before he under took his vast projects—from ship building to the construction of hundred million dollar dams.

His son Edgar carried on that tradition. Thus, last weekend Edgar Kaiser, Arthur Goldberg and Dave McDonald had a package ready to sign which was just one penny an hour per man more than the other steel industrialists were willing to give. But wages was not the issue.

The famed Section 2 B, covering past practices work rules, was, for this, Kaiser's solution, agreed to by the union, was a board to work out the intricate work rules procedures. There was to be a three-man board consisting of a very great mediator, Dave Cole; Harvard's John Dunlop, and the head of the President's emergency board, George Taylor.

LAST WEEK Edgar Kaiser decided to sign for this package. His Washington trouble-shooter contacted one of the Capital's great newsmen and they agreed to break the story of his battle inside the industry on Monday.

This would cover Kaiser when he signed with the union by explaining that he had no other course but to break with the 11 other companies.

On Saturday morning Kaiser was in the famous "secret" meeting of the leaders of the Big 12 steel companies. He told them, in effect, what he was planning to do on Monday. He outlined the package. They took a vote.

Ten of the 12 companies voted with him. They wanted to settle with the union. Two men voted against settling. They vetoed the settlement. They were Roger Blough, head of U.S. Steel and Arthur Homer, head of Bethlehem Steel.

They were in the minority. But their companies whip out more than half the steel tonnage in the United States. The others—except for Edgar Kaiser—reversed themselves and went along with Blough and Homer. Then Blough and Kaiser fought it out on Sunday.

Kaiser was reminded that his engineering firm had 200 million dollars orders from other steel companies.

THIS WAS A FLOW the Kaiser Industries could not afford to take. Kaiser telephoned the union leaders that he would not be in the Carlton Monday.

Blough, with the sagacious lawyer, Heath Larry, at his side and Homer, with the great steel maker's legal expert John Morse always near him, put the heat on Kaiser because they had long ago decided to fight it out during the Eisenhower Administration.

They did not want to break the union but they wanted a showdown during a regime in which the White House would not be pressuring them to settle with the union.

This they believe is their last chance to remake the steel contract. They believe that the net president will not stay as aloof as has Mr. Eisenhower—not Dick Nixon, not Nelson Rockefeller, not any Democrat.

Three years ago the industrialists decided to take the biggest, toughest, hardest strike the Steel Union could unleash.

They have come this far. They are determined not to permit the union to split their ranks as the union always has. That's why Edgar Kaiser got the triphammer pressure.

Travelers Club Holds Annual Luncheon

The Salem Travelers Club observed its annual guest day luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the Salem Golf Club with 70 members and guests in attendance.

Mrs. John Works Jr., Mrs. S. C. Chessman, Mrs. Robert Campbell, Mrs. Kenneth U. Wirtz and Mrs. M. H. Mawhinney comprised the social committee.

Arrangements of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and huckleberry foliage in brass containers graced the tables.

A demonstration correlating flower arranging and painting was presented by Mrs. George F. Jones assisted by Mrs. R. K. Immerman. She said limitations of flower arrangers exceed those of painters because a painter can mix any color, whereas the arrangers are limited to the material he has on hand.

Contemporary flower arranging is more influenced by the Japanese than any other culture, she said. There are two different types, decorative and interpretive, she added.

Through the ages, the decorative approach has been most used, but fun and pleasure can also be gained by the challenge of the interpretive, Mrs. Jones continued. By means of approximately six decorative and several interpretive compositions, constructed on the scene, Mrs. Jones demonstrated this relationship of line, form and color.

Each display showed the harmony between arrangement and background, fabric and pictures. One of the interpretive arrangements showed the correlation to South American music and rhythms.

A display of seasonal and holiday topiary trees and decorations was also presented.

The next regular business meeting will be Nov. 3 at the Smucker House.

THE ONE LOW-PRICE WAGON THAT'S ALWAYS BEEN FIRST WITH NEW IDEAS CAN NOW GIVE YOU A SOLIDER AND QUIETER RIDE THAN ANY WAGON COULD POSSIBLY GIVE YOU BEFORE. BECAUSE NO WAGON EVER HAD A DURA-QUIET UNIBODY BEFORE.

The Solid Plymouth wagons for 1960 are built a new way by Chrysler engineers. Body and undersills are joined in one enormously strong steel unit, locked by over 5900 precise welds. Plymouth's nine new suburban models are tighter, quieter, smoother than ever. They're roomier, too.

It took ten solid years of development to create this new kind of wagon . . . and after two minutes behind the wheel, we're pretty sure you'll say it's worth it.

Unibody construction is made for wagons. Doors, windows and tailgate fit better and stay tight. You save on maintenance because welded construction stands up

Columbiana Students To Hold Career Day

COLUMBIANA — Career Day, a joint project of Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs in cooperation with Columbiana schools, will be held on Wednesday at Columbiana High School.

The 13th annual vocational conference will be an all-day affair for seniors, while the other three upper grades will participate in the afternoon program. Seniors will spend the morning "on the job," getting a first-hand look at their particular field of interest in business, professional and industrial locations throughout the district.

A noon luncheon at the high school cafeteria will be followed with a general assembly at 1 p.m. for the upper four grades. The speaker will be Dr. Fred Essig, superintendent of Youngstown schools. During the afternoon, two series of panel sessions will be conducted when the students may talk with and ask questions of representatives from various occupational fields.

The Kiwanis committee includes High School Principal Gayl Gloss and W. E. Ferrall, and the Rotary committee Supt. D. W. Bailey and Rich Berryman.

MRS. ARTHUR SPATHOLT discussed her hobby of ceramics when the Readers Guild met Tuesday evening at her home in Leetonia. Mrs. Willard Ferrall was program chairman. Lunch was served by Mrs. Clyde Harold and Mrs. Lee Bookwalter. The guild's next meeting will be Nov. 3 at the home of Mrs. M. H. Pursifull Sr., with Mrs. Florence Campbell as program chairman.

Rev. Donald J. Voelm of Grace United Church, chairman of the Northeast Ohio Synod committee on united promotions, reported on mission goals at the synod meeting Thursday in Akron. He was accompanied by several church members to the meeting.

Members of the primary and junior departments of Jerusalem Lutheran Church are requested to take thankoffering envelopes to the church Sunday morning, and to sit together to join in the thank-offering service. Women of the church also are reminded the ingathering of thankoffering boxes will be made at Sunday's services.

The American Legion Auxiliary, at its meeting Wednesday night, made plans for a benefit on Thursday, Oct. 29, at the post home on N. Pearl St. Orders may be called to Mrs. Esther Culp, IV 2-4354, Mrs. Bess Johnson, IV 2-2507 or to the Legion home.

Reilly PTA Sets Open House Monday

All parents of students attending Reilly School are urged to attend Monday night's Parent-Teacher Association meeting when open house will be observed.

Guest speaker will be Supt. Paul E. Smith, who will explain the need for the passage of the two school levies at the Nov. 3 election. After a brief business meeting, which will begin at 7:15 p.m., parents will have the opportunity to visit their children's classrooms, see their accomplishments and meet their teachers.

Through the courtesy of the Salem Girl Scouts, a baby sitting service will be available at this and at all future PTA meetings.

Arrangements for this open house meeting were completed at an executive board session Tuesday evening. A general discussion was held concerning the importance of the school levies. The board considered the possibility of uniting Salem PTA's in a city-wide council and discussed a social program to include students and parents.

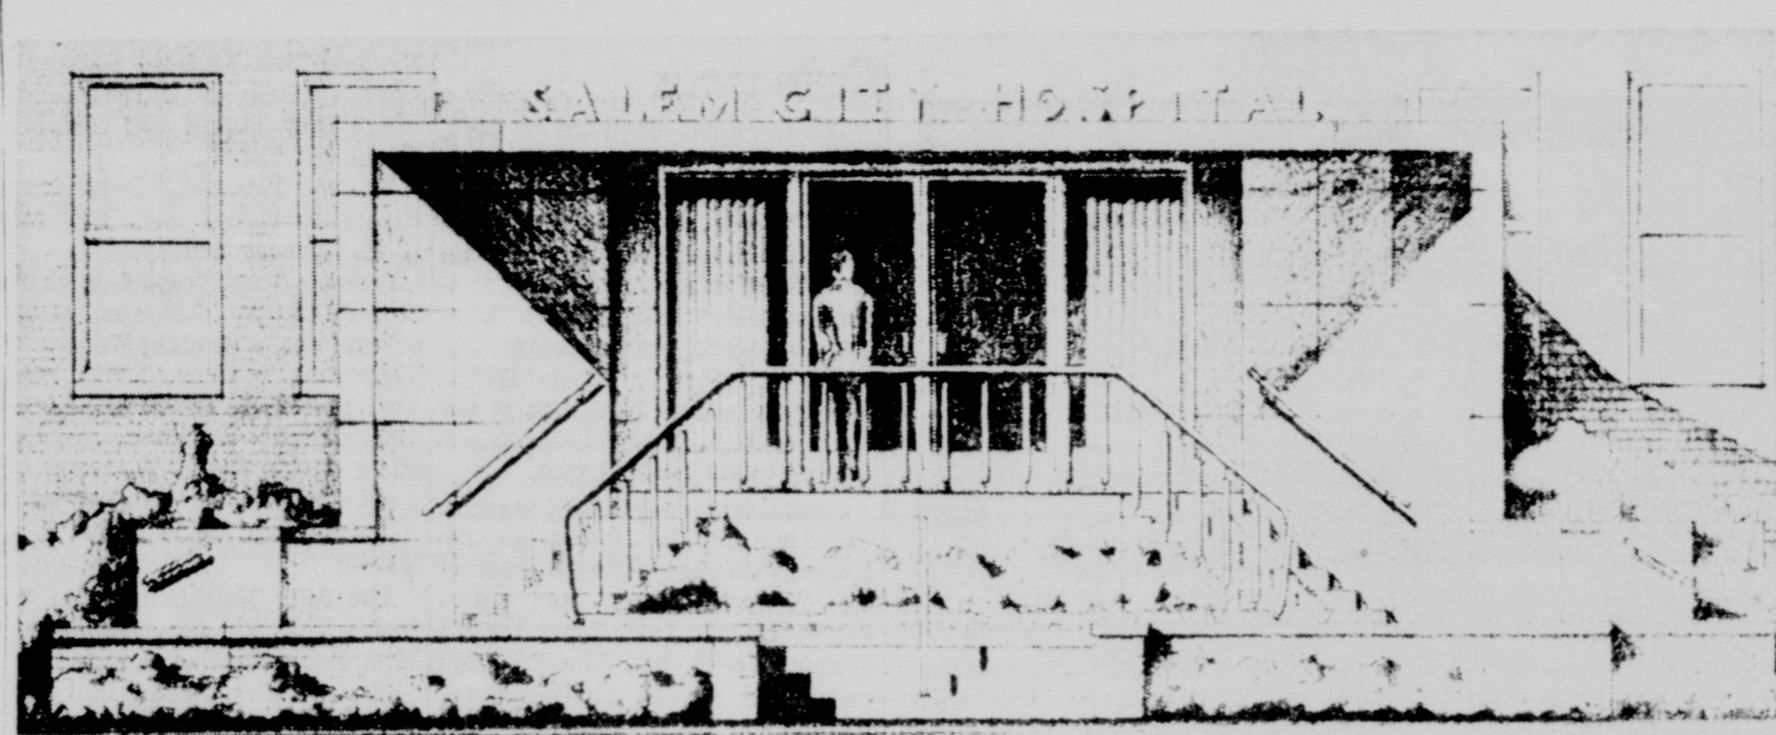

Refreshments were served by Chester Brautigam.

Chuckling Driver Cited For Failure to Yield

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—Victor N. Miller felt happy to be alive. He was chuckling when he emerged unhurt from his car which had been tossed 20 feet into the air after it ran into the side of a locomotive at a railroad crossing. The vehicle landed upside-down in a ditch.

Miller, 25, was still chuckling when police drove up. Officers looked unsmilingly at the wreck and erased Miller's chuckle with a ticket charging failure to yield the right-of-way.

Salem City Hospital Entrance to Get New Look

Contractors are busily engaged in remodeling of the front entrance to Salem City Hospital, a $15,000 project which has been approved by the hospital board of trustees.

Architect's drawing above shows how the entrance will look when completed.

The modern new front replaces the old structure which had begun to crumble after years of use. New additions have been made to the hospital building from time to time but the front entrance had not been altered.

After the entrance is completed, the first floor will be renovated to include a visitors lounge, nurses lounge, an interdenominational chapel and administrative offices, Hospital Administrator C. J. Mosher said.

Meanwhile, work is progressing downstairs on a new dining room. It is expected to be completed within a month. The new dining area will provide meals and snacks for visitors as well as meals for the hospital staff.

All of the improvements are a part of the hospital's "keep up to date" modernization, explained Atty. South Metzger, president of the board of trustees.

Junior High PTA Elects Mr. Schnell

Charles Schnell was elected president of the Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association at the Wednesday night meeting in the school auditorium. More than 600 attended.

Other officers elected to serve during the 1959-60 school year are: Vice president, Sam Pridon; secretary, Mrs. Charles Rheutan; and treasurer, Don Smith.

Superintendent Paul Smith spoke to the group and explained the need of the proposed school levies to be placed on the ballots at the Nov. 3 election.

Principal Earle Smith introduced the staff of teachers and the membership committee comprised of Mr. and Mrs. William Corso and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culler. Mr. Corso spoke in behalf of the committee.

Student Council members served as ushers when the parents, following their children's school schedules, visited the classrooms of their children, and met their teachers.

The Council members are Fred Naragon, Tom Griffiths, Lynn Baddeley, Sandy Sutter, Sue Snicker, Nancy Houser, Judy Durham, Janet Kuhl, Paul Lau and Bill Carter. A social hour followed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. June Johnson, Mrs. Rudy Schuster, Mrs. William Woolf and Mrs. Dale Paxson.

Gov. Rockefeller, Kennedy Cite Need For Good Example

NEW YORK (AP)—Two possible 1960 candidates for president—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts—told the same nonpolitical dinner audience Thursday night that the United States must improve its example of freedom before the world.

The Republican governor and Democratic senator addressed 2,500 persons at the annual benefit dinner of the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation.

The late Al Smith, governor of New York and 1938 Democratic nominee for president, came in for high praise from several speakers.

Rockefeller said the United States cannot have respect abroad until it honors equal rights for Negroes, cleans up its slums and spurs its own economic growth.

Kennedy called for leadership like that of Al Smith in "the war of the public good against private interest, of responsible leadership against aimless drift, of moral accountability against moral indifference."

Rockefeller called for "making our political life, in this divided world, a testament to freedom and a defiance of freedom's enemies."

DROWNS IN TUB

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Helen Ibrahim, 9, a resident of the Wright Home for Retarded Children at Berlin Heights, drowned Thursday when she fell into a tub of water at the home. The water had been drawn by an attendant who left momentarily to care for another child.

Quint's Funeral Scheduled Today

TAYLOR, Tex. (AP)—Five doll-size caskets carry the Hannan quintuplets to their separate graves today.

Atop each tiny white coffin, a miniature spray of white flowers has a ribbon giving the name: Deborah Lynn, Janet Lee, Karen Denise, Melissa Jane, Suzanne Kay.

The one-in-42 million births occurred Tuesday at Lackland Air Force Base Hospital in San Antonio to 1st Lt. and Mrs. Charles G. Hannan. Four died Tuesday night and the last died early Wednesday. Doctors said the babies — three months premature — were not sufficiently developed to survive.

The caskets, each about two feet long, were in a row on a long platform about 26 inches high. The platform was draped in maroon velvet. Behind the caskets stood a large cross.

A Catholic priest said the rosary and the response was given by friends and relatives.

A Catholic layman explained that in such instances the prayers are offered not for the sins of the deceased but as prayers of consolation.

New Device Could Stop Smog In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Air pollution experts say a device invented by a nuclear scientist may end this city's long battle with smog.

Smith Griswold, head of the Air Pollution Control District, told the board of supervisors Thursday that the device "is capable of rolling back smog to the pre-1940 level."

There wasn't any smog to mention in Los Angeles before 1940.

Supervisors immediately clamored for a state law requiring the invention—an afterburner exhaust manifold—on all 1961 cars sold in California.

Griswold's experts say auto exhaust is the last unchecked source of smog-producing hydrocarbons in Los Angeles.

Dr. Stuart Ridgeway of the Thompson Ramo-Woolridge Corp. invented it.

The Thompson Ramo-Woolridge Device is a manifold with an air pump—its only moving part—to blow oxygen onto the exhaust gases, like the blacksmith's bellows, to burn the gases at about 1,500 degrees.

A STUDENT INTERESTED in the effects of prolonged submersion on the human body—that's just another way of saying that Robert Ingolia, of Port Washington, N. Y., likes to live underwater. He likes to plunge into the pool at Manorhaven, N. Y., to set underwater endurance marks. Wearing a skindiver's suit and equipped with air tanks, he has stayed under for 20 hours until an ear infection forced him up. He's trying to stay submerged for four days. What does he do down there? He plays checkers with visitors who drop down, eats and sleeps there. Here are photos of his deep studies.

A Customer Service What You Should Know When Selecting A Heating System.

Each heating system must be custom made to fit individual problems. The system must be tailored to fit your home, just as clothes are tailored to fit every person.

Your heating contractor should make AVAILABLE TO YOU the following:

- Heat loss of your home calculated to insure the proper size furnace. This will avoid costly fuel bills.
- Have your dealer show a complete layout of the heating system. This will indicate register location, types of registers, the amount of heat being supplied to each room and whether duct work is ample to do the required job.
- Return air is important. Be sure return air registers and duct work will return 10% more cold air than warm air ducts will deliver. This will avoid cold rooms and severe damage to your furnace.
- Beware of prices quoted on job! Know what you are buying! Any heating dealer who does not take the time necessary to do all these things is only guessing! He might guess right but what happens when he is wrong?

Another in a series of dances for students in grades six through nine will be held Saturday in the Memorial Building, John Dawson, assistant manager of the building, reports.

The event will last from 8 to 11 p.m.

Don Stelts will spin the records. Dawson said parents are needed to act as chaperones for the Oct. 31 dance and requests those who wish to serve in that capacity to contact him at the Memorial Building.

homes. The program featured Edward R. Murrow for a number of years but now is moderated by Charles Collingwood.

Aaron and Zousmer said it was no secret that the show had been prepared in advance.

The producer said they would stay on long enough for an "orderly change" in the administration and production of the program.

In another development Thursday, Mark Goodson, co-producer of "The Price is Right," an NBC daytime and evening TV show, said the program's occasional practice of advising all contestants not to bid above a certain figure had been dropped more than a year ago.

A former contestant on the show, George Price of Canton, Ohio, said Wednesday that in June, 1958, he had been told by a staff member on the show not to exceed a bid of $3,100 in seeking to win a Mediterranean cruise by guessing the value of the cruise in competition with other contestants.

Goodson said this practice had involved no element of deception because all contestants were given the same information. Goodson said "The Price is Right" has "always been, and will continue to be, produced in a fair and honest manner."

Italy to Ask East-West Arms Pact

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Italy is slated to issue an appeal for East-West agreement on disarmament by stages before the U.N. today.

Italian Ambassador Egidio Ortona is expected to spell out the proposal before the General Assembly's 82-nation political committee, now in the second week of its marathon arms debate.

The plan is reportedly based on five principles:

1. Disarmament must be achieved by successive and gradual steps.
2. Any arms agreement will have to provide at every stage for appropriate international control.
3. Disarmament in conventional weapons must take place concurrently with disarmament in nuclear weapons.
4. Any substantial progress in disarmament must be accompanied by security agreements.
5. Any arms agreement must be preceded by a truce on propaganda if the pact is to be full and lasting.

Italy is a member of the new 10-nation East-West committee which begins disarmament discussions in Geneva in February. Her representatives have been taking part in behind-the-scenes efforts to bring the Soviet Union and the West together on the arms issue.

The United States and the Soviet Union have been maneuvering toward agreement on a resolution which would contain recommendations to the 10-nation Geneva conference.

Informed sources said the Soviets have sent on to Moscow the latest U.S. suggestions on the wording of the resolution and expect a reply late today or Saturday.

The Soviets have been insisting that the resolution endorse Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan for total disarmament. The United States has argued that instead the resolution should follow the language of the Camp David communique that summed up the talks between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower.

The communique said both sides agreed that disarmament was the most important question facing the world today. It pledged efforts of both governments to reach a constructive solution.

Kiwanians Hear School Psychologist

Mrs. Victoria Hum, school psychologist, reviewed the studies of groups of pupils and individuals being made in the local schools when she spoke before the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon meeting Thursday in the Memorial Building.

Mrs. Hum, who is certified by the State of Ohio School Psychologists to test for motivation, difficulties, problems, strengths and intelligence quotient, said she is striving to have the students properly tested and given the programs they need.

Alfred Fitch president of the school board, was program chairman. He told the board that 463 pupils have been added to the school membership with no increase in tax funds during the same period to cover added expenses. He said the 4.5-mill two-year emergency levy is needed to compensate for the next few years until taxes from new houses in the area increase the school fund.

Mr. Fitch also announced that contrary to prevalent rumors there is no surplus of teachers on the staff in Salem Public Schools. Some now employed are eligible to teach subjects for which state aid can be secured and application for such aid is being sought, he explained.

The Kiwanians unanimously endorsed both proposed school levies and the city storm sewer levy.

tro on the cry of a teen-ager that "that man has a knife! He is going to kill Fidel!"

Police hustled the man away from the angry mob for questioning on whether he was bent on assassination. Hours later police said the man, a 44-year-old upholsterer named Robert Salas Hernandez, would appear for a court examination today. No charges had been filed against him.

Authorities said Salas, when seized, said, "This is an injustice: I am a supporter of Fidel." Castro told the television audience he didn't think Salas planned to attack him.

Charging that the two mystery planes dropped bombs as well as leaflets, Castro raised a veiled threat against the future of the big U.S. naval and air base at Guantanamo, on the southeast coast of Cuba.

"The country was bombed in peacetime without being at war by planes based in the United States," he shouted. "What kind of reciprocity is it when, in return for our permitting them a base at Guantanamo, we are bombed by counter-revolutionary planes based in the United States?"

"What would happen if planes based in Canada bombed automobile plants or even Washington?"

Two Cubans were killed and 46 wounded in the attacks Wednesday. The Cuban air force said at the time that the intruding planes—which escaped—dropped no bombs, and witnesses suggested the casualties resulted from the automobile gangs or from soldiers firing wildly at the planes.

On the Bookshelves

Listing of New Books at Salem Public Library

Two biographies head the list of recent additions to the library collection. Cecil B. DeMille directed and produced some of Hollywood's greatest movies. Phil Koury has captured the flavor of DeMille's life in "Yes, Mr. DeMille." The Civil War exploits of General Nathan B. Forrest would have made an excellent plot for a DeMille movie. John Wyeth wrote "That Devil Forrest" back in 1899. It has just been put back into print and provides a contemporary picture of the astute military leader.

NEW FICTION

"Adventure's End" by John Harris. Harry Ash unwittingly assumed responsibility for the safety of an attractive woman and her niece when he boarded an English ship to escape from a revolution-torn South American country.

"Love in a Mist" by Rosalie Packard. A witty story about a girl who must adjust her storybook ideas about life in England when she marries an Englishman and goes to live in a London flat.

"Two Ways to Die" by Lee Thayer. A maze of oriental tradition hides a killer from Peter Clancy while he is on a secret mission in Japan.

"Tigress in the Village" by Frank Swinnerton. The English village of Prothers and Jerome and Mary Grace have appeared in other books by this author. This time the inner relationships of the villagers creates the plot.

"Miss Pinkerton" by Mary Roberts Rinehart. An anthology of stories about one of the author's favorite characters, Hilda Adams. Hilda is one of the few successful nurse-detectives in the mystery field - she never fails to provide top quality stories.

"Hard Hearts are for Cabbages" by Vi Putnam. The adventures of an unpredictable Gypsy family in California. The Rouns are an eccentric group and their philosophy to live without danger is emptier than to live without love" - keeps them in constant difficulty.

"Muscle Beach" by Ira Wallach. A zany tale by the author of many humorous books. Carlo Cofield fell in love with a beautiful but dumb starlet on California's Muscle Beach - but by the end of the book was happy to return her to her husband.

"The Stars Are Too High" by A. H. Bahnsen, Jr. A science-fiction novel in which a scientific advisor to the Air Force is the only one who knows where the space ship came from, and he had been sworn to secrecy by the powerful nation that controlled it.

"The Politician" by Stephen and Ethel Longstreet. The hero of this novel typifies a new class of politician - the country gentlemen. The book gives an analysis of the current political climate as well as the events of an ascent to the White House.

"No Grave for a Lady" by John Bonett. English publisher Andrew Adams and his wife become involved in a murder when they find the body of one of Hitler's old girl friends on the beach at Lyonesse.

Here's Advice to Home Buyers

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE

You've planned to move because you are dissatisfied with the size of your home, or its age, or location, or the change that time has wrought upon your neighborhood. Now you read of:

The high cost of mortgage money. The anticipated decline in home building.

Mounting construction costs. What should you do? I put this question to a number of housing experts expecting them to say:

"Go tell your reader that if he isn't sitting in his dream house now — when his take-home pay is probably higher than it has ever been and after a record number of new homes have been built — he has missed the boat."

The answer I got, in plainest English, was: "Tell your reader to quit stalling. The longer he waits, the more he will have to spend."

THERE IS ABSOLUTE agreement that housing costs will not come down at any time in the foreseeable future.

In the past two years, the Department of Commerce's construction cost indices show a 13 per cent rise in the price of building a brick house, a 14 per cent rise in the price of constructing a frame home. Skilled construction workers who earned $2.41 an hour in 1949 and $3.24 an hour in 1955 are now getting $3.92 an hour. Unskilled laborers in the building trades who earned $1.45 an hour in 1949 and $2.06 in 1955 are now getting $2.62. Except for soft coal miners, construction workers' average hourly earnings surpass all other workers in manufacturing and the retail trades.

There is absolute agreement on the part of the experts that the demand for better housing has been constant and will continue at an accelerated pace far into the future. In this industry, it is the supplanting factor that fluctuates. The thinking is that despite the shortage of building funds, 1.2 million new homes will be started next year, exactly as many starts as in 1958.

Tell your readers, said one expert, the theory behind making money more expensive to borrow and less available is to discourage spending. In the historical past in periods of tight money, this is exactly what has happened. Demand for housing is postponed. We expect that this will happen again. Thus it might be more advantageous for you to plunge into that dream house sooner, rather than later.

IN THE MONTHS AHEAD because of a possible slow-up in demand, you can expect the price of existing homes to remain steady.

The new housing bill offers something in your favor too; it boosts the maximum size of FHA loans on one-family houses to $22,500 from $20,000 and eases downpayment requirements on FHA loans. Under the new law, for example, the minimum downpayment on a house appraised by the FHA at $20,000 would be cut to $1,500 from nearly $2,000.

Finally, though interest rates on mortgages are climbing up, up, up, remember this is a tax-deductible item on your federal income tax.

Ohio Cage Squads Will Try 24 Second Rule

Columbiana Is 1 of Trial Sites

Cabas to Attend Recreation Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school basketball courts will be used as laboratories this winter for some rules research.

Several regular season games will try out revolutionary regulations suggested by the National Basketball Rules Committee.

One is a regulation now in effect among the professionals which forces a team to shoot within 24 seconds of gaining ball possession, or surrender the ball to the foe.

Another would do away with free throw shooting after a foul by the offensive team—the defenders merely being given the ball out of bounds while the infraction is chalked up against the offending player. Defensive fouls would be treated as at present, with free throws given the offended team.

The Massillon at Mansfield game of Feb. 6 is definitely set for a test of the 24-second rule. Others will be played at Middletown, Steubenville, Columbiana, Smithfield and Cincinnati Taft. Sulphur Springs, Pickerington, Arcanum and several other spots will give the foul rule a tryout.

The Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Assn. agreed to the test today as hundreds of the scholastic mentors moved in for the annual cage clinic at Ohio State University.

The board of directors, at Thursday night's late meeting, agreed to look into the feasibility of holding two all-star North-South basketball games instead of one next June 18 at Troy's Hobart Arena.

The 1959 event broke even financially, and the directors discussed whether two contests, one between Class AA players and the other involving Class A stars, would boost attendance. They'll decide at the January meeting.

The association decided that the clinic in connection with the all-star game would be jointly sponsored by the High School Athletic Assn. and the mentors, instead of by the Urbana group which handles the game. The coaches also are considering using all-star game profits to set up a college scholarship for one of the players.

W. C. McConnell, state high school commissioner, told the coaches that for the first time since the association was formed the state has less than 1,000 high schools. The figure dropped to 994 this year, 562 in Class A and 432 in Class AA, the latter big school group being boosted and the other depleted by a number of consolidations.

The directors took no action on a request that orange or yellow balls be approved for Ohio play, thus leaving only the leather-colored sphere in use; decided to charge non-members $5 and members $1 for attendance at the Troy clinic (association membership costs $2), and named five members to participate in the six-state Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation program at Cleveland next March 30-April 2.

Representing the coaches will be Jack Gill of Wilmington, John Cabas of Salem, John Broski of Parma and Babe Shoup of Edgerton, with Ang Vaccaro of Steubenville as chairman of the round table discussion.

Paul Walker of Middletown said the association had 285 members as of Thursday night, but that it would go over the 550 mark as mentors signed up today at the clinic.

Clinic speakers included Phog Allen, former Kansas coach; Stan Watts of Brigham Young University, Fred Taylor of Ohio State, Shoup and Cabas.

Class A cage teams started practice Oct. 1, and the AA group starts Nov. 1. The smaller schools may play their first games Nov. 1, the larger ones Nov. 20.

Salem Frosh Suffer 3rd Straight Loss

Salem's freshman gridders suffered their third straight setback of the season Thursday at Reilly Stadium when the Alliance State Street yearlings dumped them 24-0.

The freshman Quakers will be looking for their first victory when they take on East Liverpool East here Wednesday at 4:15 p.m. Bud Fields and Jack Rance of Salem are the referees for all home games.

At 7:30 p.m. Saturday, the Salem junior varsity, consisting of sophomores and juniors, will meet the Wellsville reserves at Reilly Stadium. The Quaker reserves are unbeaten in three games.

Conley Is Named as NL's Comeback Player of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Conley's basketball team won the world's professional championship last season. His baseball club finished in the cellar.

Today, the lanky Philadelphia pitcher himself came out on top in the voting for the National League comeback player of the year. He received 58 of the 168 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. Wally Moon of the Los Angeles Dodgers was second with 45 votes followed by Duke Snider, another member of the world champions, with 22.

Conley, who plays for the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Assn., switched baseball uniforms last March 31 when the Phillies acquired him from Milwaukee in a six-player transaction.

The change worked wonders for the 29-year-old right-hander. He collected at least one victory against each club in the league, finishing with a 12-7 record and a 3.00 earned run average. He developed a sore arm in mid-August and did not pitch the rest of the year. With the Braves the previous season, Conley did not win a game and lost six, compiling a 4.88 ERA. Gene's best big league mark was 14-9 with the Braves in 1954.

Other ballots cast were 11 each for Don Newcombe of Cincinnati and Gil Hodges of Los Angeles; 10 for Gus Bell of Cincinnati; 5 for Harvey Haddix of Pittsburgh; 2 for Gino Cimoli, who hit .279 for St. Louis; and 1 each for Ed Mathews and Johnny Logan of Milwaukee, Sam Jones of San Francisco and Vada Pinson of Cincinnati.

Northwestern, with passer - runner Bob Eickhoff ready for duty, resumes football relations at Notre Dame for the first time in 11 years and will be seeking a fifth straight victory of the season.

Illinois, with a healthy Mel Meyers-Johnny Counts combination back in action, travels to Cleveland for a shot at undefeated Penn State.

Kent State University's cross-country team will bid for its fourth win of the season Saturday at 10 a.m. when the harriers host Ohio University over the Kent State course.

The Flashes have had one Mid-American Conference meet. That was against Marshall College and Kent State won 17-46.

Other wins for the cross country team were 20-38 over Case Tech and 20-39 over Geneva College. The Flashes lost 31-25 to Hiram and 35-21 to Ohio Wesleyan.

Glyndon Will Train Peru's Lightning

Booster Club Drive For Members Slows

The Salem Booster Club's membership drive has almost slowed to a halt, despite the fact the organization has yet to reach the halfway mark in its goal of 1,000 members.

The club's membership stands at 450, according to a report made by Secretary Carl Capel at the Boosters' regular meeting Thursday night in the Memorial Building.

Pres. A. P. Schmauch announced that the annual election of officers will be held Nov. 19. Next week's regular business meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday since the Salem-Boardman football game will be played on Thursday at Reilly Stadium.

Basketball Staff Attend State Clinic

Salem High Basketball Coach John Cabas and his assistants Sam Pridon and Karl Zellers are in Columbus today attending the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches Clinic.

Cabas addressed the more than 3,000 coaches at the clinic this morning on the topic, "Building a High School Offense." Also on the morning program were Stan Watts and Fred Taylor, coaches at Brigham Young and Ohio State University, respectively.

Phog Allen, former head coach at Kansas University, will be the main speaker at a banquet tonight. The clinic will wind up Saturday morning with various meetings of coaches.

Recruiting Infraction Brings Move

Mississippi Is Fined $1,000 for Violations

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Southeastern Conference Commissioner Bernie Moore has fined the University of Mississippi $1,000 for violating athletic recruiting rules.

It was the maximum penalty he can impose. He has no power as commissioner to put members on probation. This is up to the conference, itself.

Moore's action Thursday involved Elbert (Sonny) Holmes, Forest City, Ark., now a sophomore quarterback at the University of Arkansas.

Holmes was forced to quit Mississippi shortly after he signed a grant-in-aid in 1957, because Ole Miss Coach Johnny Vaught has a rule against married players on his squad.

The incident involves a guardianship relationship between Holmes and Dr. Reuben Chrestman of Helena, Ark.

Moore said guardianship papers were taken out on Holmes and that the youth signed a grant-in-aid Dec. 7, 1957. Guardianship was granted Dec. 24, and Moore said the boy received Christmas gifts valued at about $100.

The commissioner said Holmes also was given the use of an automobile to attend the 1958 Sugar Bowl game. Other gifts worth from $5 to $10 were given Holmes from time to time, Moore said.

Moore said the guardianship arrangement was new to him and to the conference.

He said the word "guardian" as used in some conference forms refers to an arrangement based on some family connections or other ties "and I do not feel that this relationship... meets these requirements."

ONE THAT COUNTS
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — (NEA) — Ellis Dickens, wife of Indiana Coach Phil Dickens, has trained their parakeet to chant "Beat Purdue! Beat Purdue!"

Salem High School shut out Massillon twice during the 1958 football season by scores of 18-0 and 37-0.

Cleveland, 'Skins Tilt May Be Close

CLEVELAND (AP)—The game between the Cleveland Browns and Washington Redskins Sunday afternoon at Municipal Stadium will be a close one if the teams stick to the pattern they have followed in recent years.

Only seven points have separated the two teams over the last eight games. Cleveland won four, lost three and tied one.

The Browns and Redskins are part of a four-way tie for second place in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

Washington has split with Pittsburgh and the Chicago Cardinals. The Browns have two wins over the Cards and losses to the Steelers and New York.

The Browns worked on defense Thursday at League Park, concentrating on possible ways to stop Don Bosseler, Washington fullback who has gained 291 yards in 48 carries for sixth place in NFL rushing.

Jim Ray Smith, Chuck Noll and Dave Lloyd missed the practice. Smith was being treated for an ankle injury, but is expected to be ready Sunday. Noll was home trying to shake the flu.

Lloyd, injured in Wednesday's practice, has a sprained ankle and probably will not be available against the Redskins.

Buckeye-Wisconsin Clash Tops Ohio Grid Contests

Miami, Kent Face Top Foes

Penn State, Illini Clash In Cleveland

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's resurgent Buckeyes travel to Wisconsin for Saturday's Big Ten clash with the Badgers, but plenty of gridiron thrills await stay-at-home fans.

The Badger-Buck battle is a "lose and out" fray for both insofar as the Big Ten title chase is concerned. Just as big, on the national scene, is the Penn State vs. Illinois event Saturday afternoon in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

Penn State, 5-0 and rated eighth in the country, must get by the 13th-ranked Illini to stay up there. The shutout winners over Ohio State, have a 3-1 mark.

The rugged Mid-American Conference could clear up a few things, or could develop into a down-to-the-wire race, in Saturday's contests. Miami, dominating the league four of the last five years, will be fighting for its life as the Redskins entertain Ohio University.

Miami carries a 1-1 loop record while Ohio U. is 2-0. Bowling Green, topping the list with 3-0, goes against Kent State (2-1) at Kent.

The latter lost to Ohio, defeated Miami, so anything can happen.

Should Bowling Green and Ohio U. win, the race probably would be decided Nov. 21 when they

Irwin, Bailey Added To Bisons' Roster

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The last-place Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League have added defenseman Ivan Irwin and forward Bob Bailey to the roster. Irwin, a league all-star defenseman for the 1958 champion Bisons, was bought from the New York Rangers, and Bailey from the Cleveland Barons.

Detroit Tops Boston 4-1

Sawchuk Gives 'Fine' Performance

By The Associated Press
Only the fifth place Chicago Black Hawks have scored fewer goals than the Detroit Red Wings. Even the last-place New York Rangers, with 22, are six ahead of the Wings in the scoring column.

Yet Detroit is leading the National Hockey League with five victories and one tie in six starts, so the answer obviously is defense, and more particularly goalie Terry Sawchuk.

Sawchuk gave another brilliant performance Thursday night as the Wings turned back the Boston Bruins, 4-1. In the third period Guy Gendron of the Bruins shot the puck past Sawchuk for the lone Boston goal, the first marker the ace netminder has allowed in nearly 143 minutes of play.

It was a tight game until the last minute of play, when the Wings scored twice after the Bruins had pulled goalie Don Simmons in a desperation effort to turn the tide. Simmons went out with just 70 seconds to play, and 12 seconds later Marcel Pronovost scored into the open net. Half a minute later Gordie Howe did the same thing, and that was that.

Val Fonteyne scored the first goal in the first period, and Detroit made it 2-0 when Billy McNeill deflected Warren Godfrey's long shot at the corner of the cage in the final period.

The Montreal Canadiens stayed right on the heels of the Red Wings by defeating the Black Hawks, also by a 4-1 score. And they also scored three of their goals in the final period.

The Canadiens had only a 1-0 edge going into that period, Maurice (Rocket) Richards having scored from 10 feet early in the opening session. In a little more than four minutes of the final period Claude Provost, Jean-Guy Talbot and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion tallied. Phil Maloney counted the Hawks' lone goal in the last period.

Giant Manager Given 1-Year Contract

Rigney Gets Another Chance To Bring Home Flag Winner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Manager Bill Rigney, whose San Francisco Giants collapsed in the final week of the National League pennant race, gets one more chance to bring home a pennant winner. Owner Horace Stoneham, in announcing Rigney's re-employment Thursday on a one-year contract believed to call for about $40,000, made it evident the graying, 41-year-old former infielder is on the spot.

Asked the significance of the one-year pact where Rigney twice previously has served under two-year contracts, Stoneham replied:

"It could work to the advantage or disadvantage of both sides. If we have a good season, Rigney will be in a position to ask for more. If we'd like to make a change after next year, it doesn't anchor the club with an additional year's contract. That's when the game becomes very brutal."

Rigney's Giants led the league by two games going into the final eight but lost seven of those to wind up in third place. Actually, Stoneham said, he discussed the one-year pact with Rigney on Sept. 20. At that time the club had started to skid, losing three straight to the Los Angeles club that went on to win the world championship.

Asked what caused the collapse, Rigney said, "in that series here, we just didn't hit."

He predicts the switch from 22,500-seat Seals Stadium with the prevailing jet stream to left field will help the club. They'll play next season in 45,000-seat Candlestick Park.

Pair Indicted on Football Parlay

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Mansfield men were indicted by the federal grand jury Thursday on charges involving a football pool they allegedly operated in 1955.

Michael F. Hallabrin, 49, and Clarence I. Steffy, 50, are charged with failure to get a $50 federal gambling stamp for each of the three years.

They also are charged with failure to register with the secretary of the treasury as persons accepting wagers and failure to file excise tax returns and pay the required 10 per cent tax on wagers accepted.

Asst. U. S. Atty. James C. Sennett said there was evidence that in the three years the two men accepted wagers totaling $64,900 on which they should have paid taxes amounting to $6,490.

Hallabrin and Steffy allegedly operated in Mansfield and eight surrounding counties.

A's Get Tentative Approval on Contract

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Tentative agreement for a four-year lease on Municipal Stadium has been reached by the Kansas City Athletics and the city council's baseball committee.

Under terms of the contract, the city would receive a flat $1,000 rental on the stadium, 5 per cent of paid admissions, 7½ per cent of all concessions and an extra $24,000 if attendance tops a million.

Glenn Whinnery, Ed Beck, Wilbur Webber, August Corso and Leonard Yates, members of Salem High School's last undefeated football team in 1929, were all first string all-Columbiana County performers that year.

Kent Malloy

Malloy Top Signal Caller At Fairmont

Kent Malloy, who quarterbacked the 1958 Salem Quakers to seven victories in nine games, is the number one signal caller as a freshman this year at Fairmont State College in West Virginia.

The little 5-10, 150-pound freshman has guided Fairmont to five consecutive victories. Malloy saw only limited action last week due to an outbreak of boils but he still managed to guide his team to its winning touchdown after entering the lineup late in the game.

For Salem last year, Malloy passed 62 times, completing 23 tosses for 583 yards and four touchdowns. While in high school, Malloy played under Coach Blaine Morton, a Fairmont State graduate. Morton is backfield coach for Earle Bruce's Quakers.

The coach at Fairmont says this experience has benefited the young quarterback since the Falcons play the same basic type of offense as Salem.

The Fairmont gridders are the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Malloy of 1193 Maple St.

You call it "my insurance company". Is it yours? Do you have any part in its operation?

Nationwide believes you should—that a company works best for people when the people help run it. Yes!... and one reason why there are more than 2,000,000 Nationwide Insurance owners.

Pro Football Team In View for Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Ralph C. Wilson, Detroit trucking and insurance executive, says he'll put up the $300,000 to $500,000 to field a professional football team here.

Wilson, who says he has a franchise in the budding American Football League and wants to put it in Buffalo, is in town for informal talks with city officials.

"All we have to do so far as I'm concerned is work out a satisfactory stadium lease," Wilson said. "I'm prepared to put up the $300,000 to $500,000 I estimate it would take to open a franchise here."

HOW NEW COUNTY HOME WOULD LOOK—This is the architect's sketch of the proposed new County Home near Lisbon which will replace the century-old building now being used if voters approved a $989,000 bond issue at the Nov. 3 general election. The drawing was made by Architect Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool at the request of Columbiana County commissioners. It would be built on the institution's present grounds.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Doctor Deserves Patience from Patients

"I want to prefer charges against a doctor — how do I go about it?"

So writes an indignant reader. "My husband had a virus, a simple little virus," she writes. "He went to this doctor and asked for a shot of penicillin to get rid of it."

The doctor refused to give it to him without a lot of tests and rigamarol. My husband went to another doctor and got the shot.

"Now, I want to know this, is there some agency where we file charges against that first doctor?"

THIS LETTER is a little more violent than some, but it is typical of complaints too often made that doctors don't give the patients what the patients think they ought to have.

This calls for a little more patience and understanding on the part of those who seek treatment. As to my correspondent quoted above: Madam, you are entirely in error. The duty of your husband's doctor was not to follow your husband's amateur instructions to give him a shot. His duty was to find out what really ailed your husband.

Beaver Local School Activities Planned

Valentine exchange; sixth grade party, 7 p.m., April 22.
